

REVIEW

the educational and professional program «Public Administration» the second level of higher education on special 281 «Public Administration», prepared by the Department of Public Administration and Law Dmytro Motorny Tavria State Agrotechnological University.

Now Ukraine needs to modernize its social and economic and political activity, which protects the need for new highly professional administrative staff who are able to adapt flexibly to the rapidly changing conditions of the modern world, where the level of business activity and political participation of citizens is gradually increasing, ensuring their rights and freedoms, a new structure of social space is being formed.

The educational and professional program «Public Administration» pays special attention to qualitative changes in the structure and content of civil society, provides for changes in the format of communication between the state and citizens. The basis of the new format should be the formation of an effective and efficient system of public administration, adequate to the Ukrainian realities and global trends.

The process of the social and economic system evolution promotes the gradual transformation of the state administration system into modern models of social regulation, in particular the expansion of public administration, becomes truly democratic and inclusive. The theoretical and practical meaning of the development shows that the proposed by the Department of Public Administration and Law of Dmytro Motorny Tavria State Agrotechnological University educational and professional program «Public Administration» is related to the solution taking into consideration a complex of external and internal factors.

The analysis showed that the program is independent, creative and complete. The level of training and practical value are appropriate.
